I. W. W. MEETING

Radicals Adjourn Conference Fearing Raid by Chicago Authorities.

Chicago, May 6.—There was a hurried gathering of papers from desks and benches and a rush to the door by delegates attending the national convention of the Industrial Workers of the World today when a rumor spread that the authorities would raid the hall at 2 o'clock.

The report was false, but the delegates spent the remainder of the day in small committee groups, meeting in saloons and lodging houses.

This was the second day of the convention, and the only radical action was directed toward their own leaders by moving forward the resolution limiting paid officers to two-year terms. The resolution was debated today and was ready for a vote when recess was taken prematurely.

Adoption of the resolution will automatically end the identification with the organization of William D. Haywood as secretary-treasurer, now serving a long term in Fort Leavenworth for conspiracy against the government.

Haywood, as secretary-treasurer, transacted most of the business and handled the funds. That the office was coveted by several of the delegates was made clear during the debate. While the officers did not interfere with the convention they let it be known each delegate was under surveillance.

"It is a regular harvest for us," said Chief of Police Garrity. "Detectives and secret service men are collecting valuable information as to who's who in Bolshevism."

"They are swimming like fish in a net. A lot of them are wanted in other cities and probably will be turned over to the authorities in a day or two. We expect to arrest dozens."

Abner Woodruff, chairman of the convention, protested against several delegates being routed from their beds at daylight while their baggage was searched. City and government authorities denied such a raid had been made.

SALVATION ARMY OF INDIA IN FULL CHARGE OF POOR RELIEF

When you see the caps and the little poke bonnets of the Salvation Army in America or England you may not think of the world-wide influence of this organization. Glance, then, at this picture of Salvation Army workers in India, in native attire, and know that in India, land of famines and poverty, the army has been given the management of problems dealing with the poor.

BOLSHEVIK TIDE THREATENING TO DELUGE EUROPE

between Russia and the Germanic world must be reinforced. These are, primarily, Poland, Bohemia and Rumania.

These countries form the barrier which may arrest the revolutionary wave sweeping on from the Russian steppes. Their reinforcement is not the only means for preserving the unity of Europe, but it is one of the simplest and most easily and quickly applied.

Yet the Peace Conference has refused to date to adopt this course. Why are not Gen. Haller's Polish legions sent back to Poland, who has been clamoring for their return for six months after the signing of the armistice? Why do we leave Rumania without arms, without all that is necessary for the maintenance of an army? Why is there such delay in enabling Odessa to defend itself against the Reds? The four great powers have lacked energy and foresight throughout in their treatment of the Russian problem.

Helping to Block Peace. It must never be forgotten that every Bolshevik military victory, however small, adds to the obstacles blocking peace with Germany, for every such victory ameliorates Germany's position toward the victorious allies.

Germany today finds herself in a very strange situation. She is the rampart which defends Russian Bolshevism against the Western democracies, for serious military operations against Russia can be undertaken only with Germany as a basis of operations—that is, with Germany's consent and assistance.

But Germany at the same time is the rampart of defense of the Western democracies against Bolshevism, for as soon as she blocks the route by which the Bolshevik wave may sweep westward, Western Europe will be safe and tranquil.

Puts Arms in German Hands. In this situation it is evident that every new success of the Bolsheviks can become a weapon in Germany's hands to exert pressure on her conquerors. Nor has she failed to make use of this advantage, and we may rest assured that she will continue to exploit it to the fullest.

The German problem cannot be solved in the way in which the allies wish to solve it unless and until the Bolshevik menace shall have disappeared. This is the fact which remains.

DUBLIN PAPERS HAIL AMERICANS

Michael Ryan and Ex-Governor Dunne Cause Stir Among Sinn Feiners.

Dublin, May 6.—The presence here of Michael I. Ryan, of Philadelphia, and ex-Governor Dunne, of Illinois, has stirred all Ireland to great agitation. The Sinn Feiners are enthusiastic; the Unionists are bitter. Strong denunciation is voiced by the Unionist organ, all the blame being attributed to President Wilson, who is assailed as a mediator.

On Sunday, the Irish-American delegates made a 125-mile motor trip around Dublin and vicinity, and everywhere were cheered by enthusiastic crowds.

Minor disturbances have occurred in some Irish towns. The Cork police have unearthed a "cache" with more than 300 bombs, believed to have been stored by Sinn Fein agents.

MOVE MORRIS TO FOIL RESCUE

Court Orders Virginia Slayer Taken to Another Jail.

Standardsville, Va., May 6.—Fear that clanmen friends of Edgar Morris and Harmon Shifflett might attempt to free them led officials here today to order their removal to the Charlottesville jail, pending trial.

While more than a score of deputies, armed with shotguns, guarded the court house and grounds, Morris was arraigned in the Green County Circuit Court here today, charged with murdering Magistrate B. L. Sullivan and attempting to kill James Morris.

A large crowd gathered to witness the event. All persons were carefully searched under orders of Sheriff Malone, and all weapons were appropriated.

When Morris was arraigned his counsel, Charles A. Hamner, of Harroburg, moved for a change of venue, declaring local influences prejudiced the interests of his client. As a result the court agreed that the case should be tried before the Albemarle Circuit Court and set June 3 as the date.

Shifflett Trial Postponed. The trial of Shifflett, charged as being an accessory of Morris, was continued until the June term of the Green County court.

Morris, who only five weeks ago shot up the very courtroom in which he was arraigned today, killing Magistrate Sullivan, has completely lost his "dime novel" villain bravado, and, cringing in the county jail, begged officials to keep him from the crowds, which, he is convinced, intend to lynch him.

erful army searchlights will flood the thoroughfare with light. One of these will be stationed at Peace Monument and the other at the south of the Treasury. Others will sweep the skies from the roofs of buildings.

Preliminary to the celebration there will be a mass meeting on the White House Ellipse, beginning at 7:30 p. m. where Ole Hanson, mayor of Seattle, Wash., is to speak. There also will be fireworks.

Real Celebration at 9 O'Clock. The real celebration will begin at 9 o'clock sharp, by which time the crowds will have gathered on the avenue. On the stroke of the hour, the signal will be given by Chairman Hanson and the dozen bands which will be stationed between Peace Monument and the Treasury will cut loose in full blast, searchlights will flash across the skies, the red fire will be lighted, automobiles will toot their horns, and the spectators will join in with horns and flutes and other noise-making devices.

It is expected that there will be thousands of men and women in masquerade costumes, while automobiles, floats and trucks will be gaily decorated. Prizes will be awarded for the most unique costume advertising the Victory Loan, for the automobile with the prettiest girls and for the best decorated automobile.
